DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to communication filed on Dec. 15, 2005.
2. Claims 12-27 have been canceled.

Specification

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" should be avoided.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Evans (2005/0277426).

Regarding claims 1, 3-11 Evans discloses a system for locating a mobile unit, comprising: receiving a signal from an access point in an environment (see fig.4, elements 35, 4, 24, paragraph [0031] and its description); determining a strength for the signal from access point (see paragraph [0031]); comparing the signal with threshold signal strength for access point, the threshold signal strength for access point stored in a storage on the mobile device (see paragraphs [0031]-[0032]); determining a location for the mobile device in the environment as the access point if the signal strength exceed the threshold signal strength (see paragraphs [0031]-[0034]); presenting data to a user on the mobile device, the data contingent on the location of the mobile device in an environment (see paragraphs [0006]-[0007]).

Regarding 2, (see paragraphs [0035]-[0044]).
